Key Insights

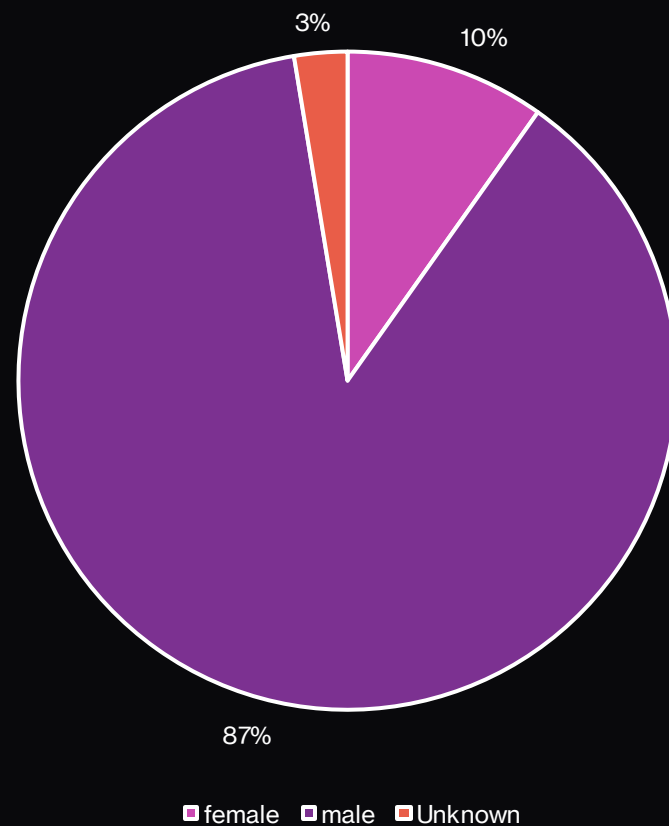

Number of sessions by province

- Key Hubs Drive Volume: Gauteng (~3700), Western Cape (~1800) and KwaZulu Natal (~1000) generate the majority of viewing sessions.
- Target Growth: Focus marketing strictly at these high-density provinces.

% sessions by gender

- Heavy Gender Skew: Male users account for more than 8x the number of viewing sessions compared to female users.
- Content Gap: Indicates an opportunity to re-evaluate female targeted programming.

Number of sessions by time of day

- Daytime Primetime: Mornings and afternoons are peak viewing hours of the day (~3800 each).
- Nighttime Dropoff: Night sessions plunge to ~700 sessions indicating a window of opportunity for scheduling optimization.

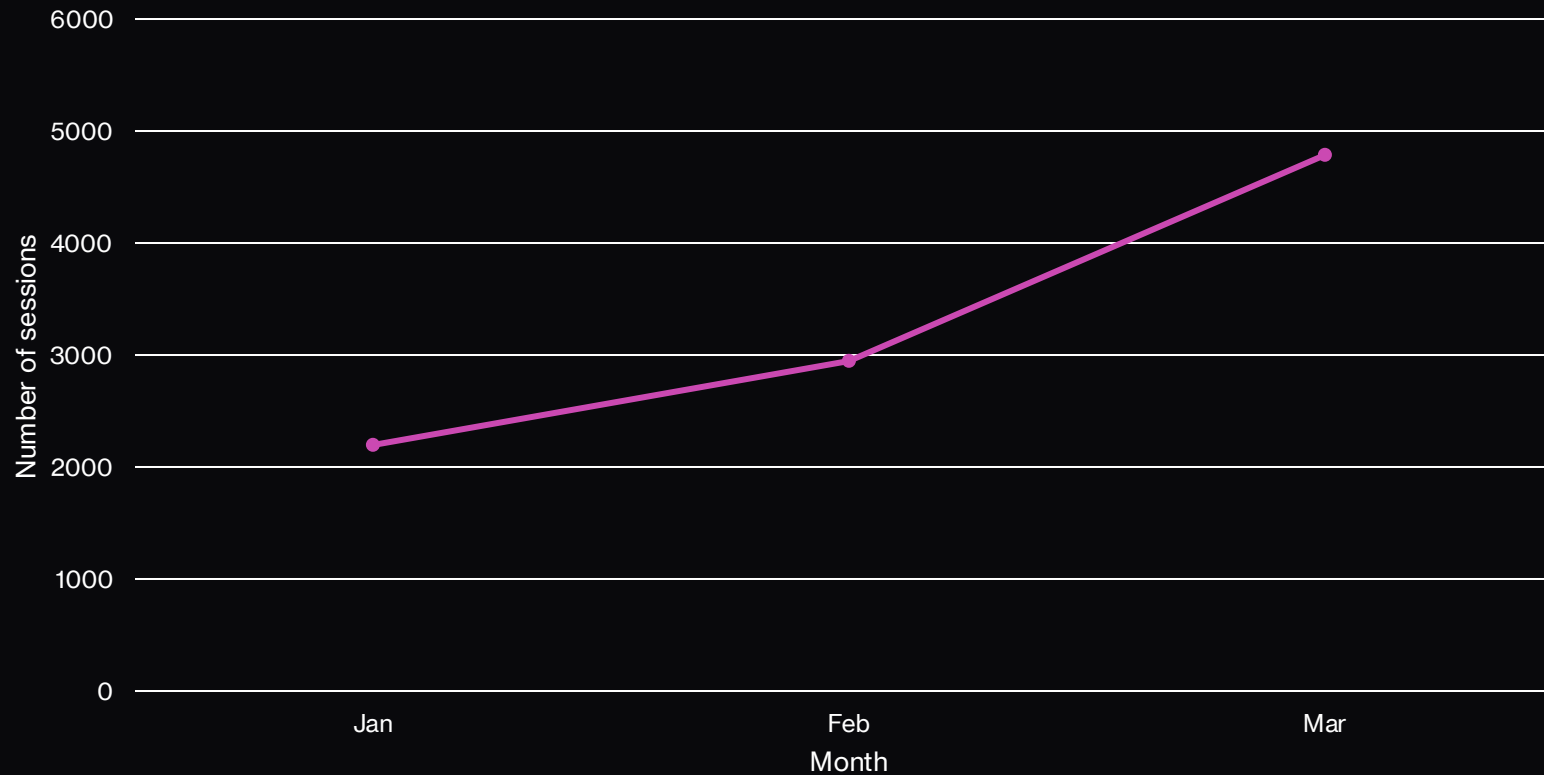

Number of sessions by screen time

- Short Form Behaviour: Active users are spending less than 30 min per session (> 2000 sessions). Extended playtime is rare as both medium and high usage show a total of ~ 800 sessions.
- Retention Challenge: Steep drop off indicates need for stronger content hooks to boost watch duration

Note: No usage = <5 min

Number of sessions by month

- Strong upward trajectory: Monthly sessions more than doubled from January (~2100) to March (~4900).
- Scaling potential: Further potential expansion is achievable due to current momentum.

Recommendations

- Fix Onboarding UX: Audit app load times and player latency.
- Prime-Time Shift: Reschedule flagship programmes to evening hours to capture high value primetime audiences while maintaining daytime playlists for current casual viewers.
- Expand Audience: Introduce female targeted content and marketing to address the gender imbalance.
- Target Key Regions: Focus on heavily targeting ads on Gauteng, Western Cape and KwaZulu Natal metro markets.
